

“The Absolute team was excellent. They were very attentive to our every need in this project. They provided us with a number of resources for our future needs. The PM was on top of this project and made the rollout very easy. Their organizational skills and knowledge of the project made my job very easy.”

Custom Projects

We’ve found that every customer is different. Each deployment of computers and handheld devices is unique. This complexity is further augmented by the specific needs and objectives of your business.

Perhaps you want to create greater efficiencies in the management of your IT assets so your administrators can focus on the priorities of your business. Or you may host large populations of leased equipment that require priority handling so you don’t encounter lease penalties and cost overruns.

Computrace® is a versatile technology that can be configured and customized to meet just about any requirement. Our expert knowledge, coupled with the flexibility of our technology allows us to design projects that our customers can use to meet their unique objectives. Some of our successful projects have included:

Customer Center:

- Management dashboards
- Customized groupings and reporting
- Data import/exports and data integration with other systems

Process Definition and Documentation:

- Asset management tailored to each customer’s business
- Unique data delete, end-of-life, and theft reporting capabilities

Training

- In-house processes to obtain and transfer Customer Center knowledge amongst teams of IT administrators
- Customized training programs

Regardless of the details around your particular deployment, a custom project designed by the Absolute Professional Services team will help you achieve your objective.
